

XM Radio provides a service that I pay for, and I do not think it is right for the NAB to dictate what I hear. XM is no different from cable tv and much less expensive. I recently used XM on an extended road trip and had it not been for this service, I would not have had access to radio in many of the places I traveled. I get pure information, music, sports, whatever...advertising free. I am willing to pay for this service so I can have excellent radio service wherever I go. Please do not let the NAB mess up this good thing.
